Town Hall Group Still Against Rapid Transit

The Town Hall Association, a San Mateo County taxpayer group, issued a lengthy report Monday, putting forth their views on the rapid transit plan for San Mateo County.

The report was issued after five months study by a committee of 15 members of the association.

Town Hall, which claims membership of some 3,000 county members, is against the rapid transit plans.

Association president C. Julian Wheller, a Menlo Park retired admiral, and civil engineer James M. Himmel of Millbrae, an association director, discussed the report at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo.

"The Southern Pacific does almost as good a job as the rapid transit people claim they will do," said Himmel. "There will be a differential, but we're being asked to pay $250 million for it."

The report abhorred the power given to the authority, and suggested that San Mateo County voters would have their objection to the plan overwhelmed in the general election of all the district's voters.

"The claim that rapid transit can operate trains every 15 minutes in off hours is pure baloney," said Wheeler. "They'll come down to running just like SP does now."

A spokesman for the rapid transit district said that the Town Hall group seems to be confused about the whole program.

"Our estimate is that by 1975 rapid transit would be carrying the equivalent of 22 lanes of freeway through San Mateo County. The additional freeways would cost far more than the transit system — if the land for freeways could be found."

SAN MATEANS ANNOUNCE GROUP TO FIGHT FOR RAPID TRANSIT

A citizen's committee for rapid transit was announced last Tuesday. The group, comprised of prominent San Mateo County civic leaders, was formed to combat the opposition that has been forming in the county the last few weeks.

"San Mateans for Rapid Transit" is headed by three co-chairmen: Alan K. Browne of Burlingame, vice president of the Bank of America; Ernest L. Molloy, of Hillsborough, president of Macy's California, and Robert Higgins, Burlingame insurance broker and a former member of the board of directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

A report issued by the group stated that the members of the committee were deeply concerned about the opposition that has formed to "summarily defeat" the plan without a fair appraisal.

"Too much time, money and effort have been expended to bring the regional transit concept to its present status for our county to wreck the proposal as it reaches the threshold of reality."

Dog Lover In Trouble Again

A Daly City woman who was once arrested in San Francisco for keeping 27 dogs in a poorly ventilated two-room apartment, was in trouble with Daly City police Nov. 16.

Mrs. Jerry A. Rolter, 164 Miriam street complained that her Basset hound was attacked and seriously injured by a large number of dogs in the back yard of 168 Miriam street.

The dogs making the alleged attack were owned by Juanita Romero, who had just moved into a basement apartment at 168 Miriam street three days earlier and who owned 16 dogs of all sizes, colors and both sexes.

Daly City police ordered Mrs. Romero to move when they found the house she lived in was ordered closed for repairs Nov. 13. Mrs. Romero reluctantly moved her 16 animals to 162 Peabody street in San Francisco.

Congregations To Worship On Thanksgiving

Congregations of various churches in Daly City will worship together on Thanksgiving morning.

According to the Rev. Lynn Hodges, president of the Daly City Ministerium, two services have been planned to accommodate worshippers in this area. Both will be held at 10 a. m.

Grace Presbyterian Church, 300 Crocker avenue, Daly City, will host one of the services. Rabbi Solomon A. Shore will deliver the sermon.

The other Daly City Community Thanksgiving Service will be held in Seaciff Community Church, 50 Northridge drive. The Rev. Vernon Thomas, minister of the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene, will preach and the Seaciff choir will offer the musical selections.

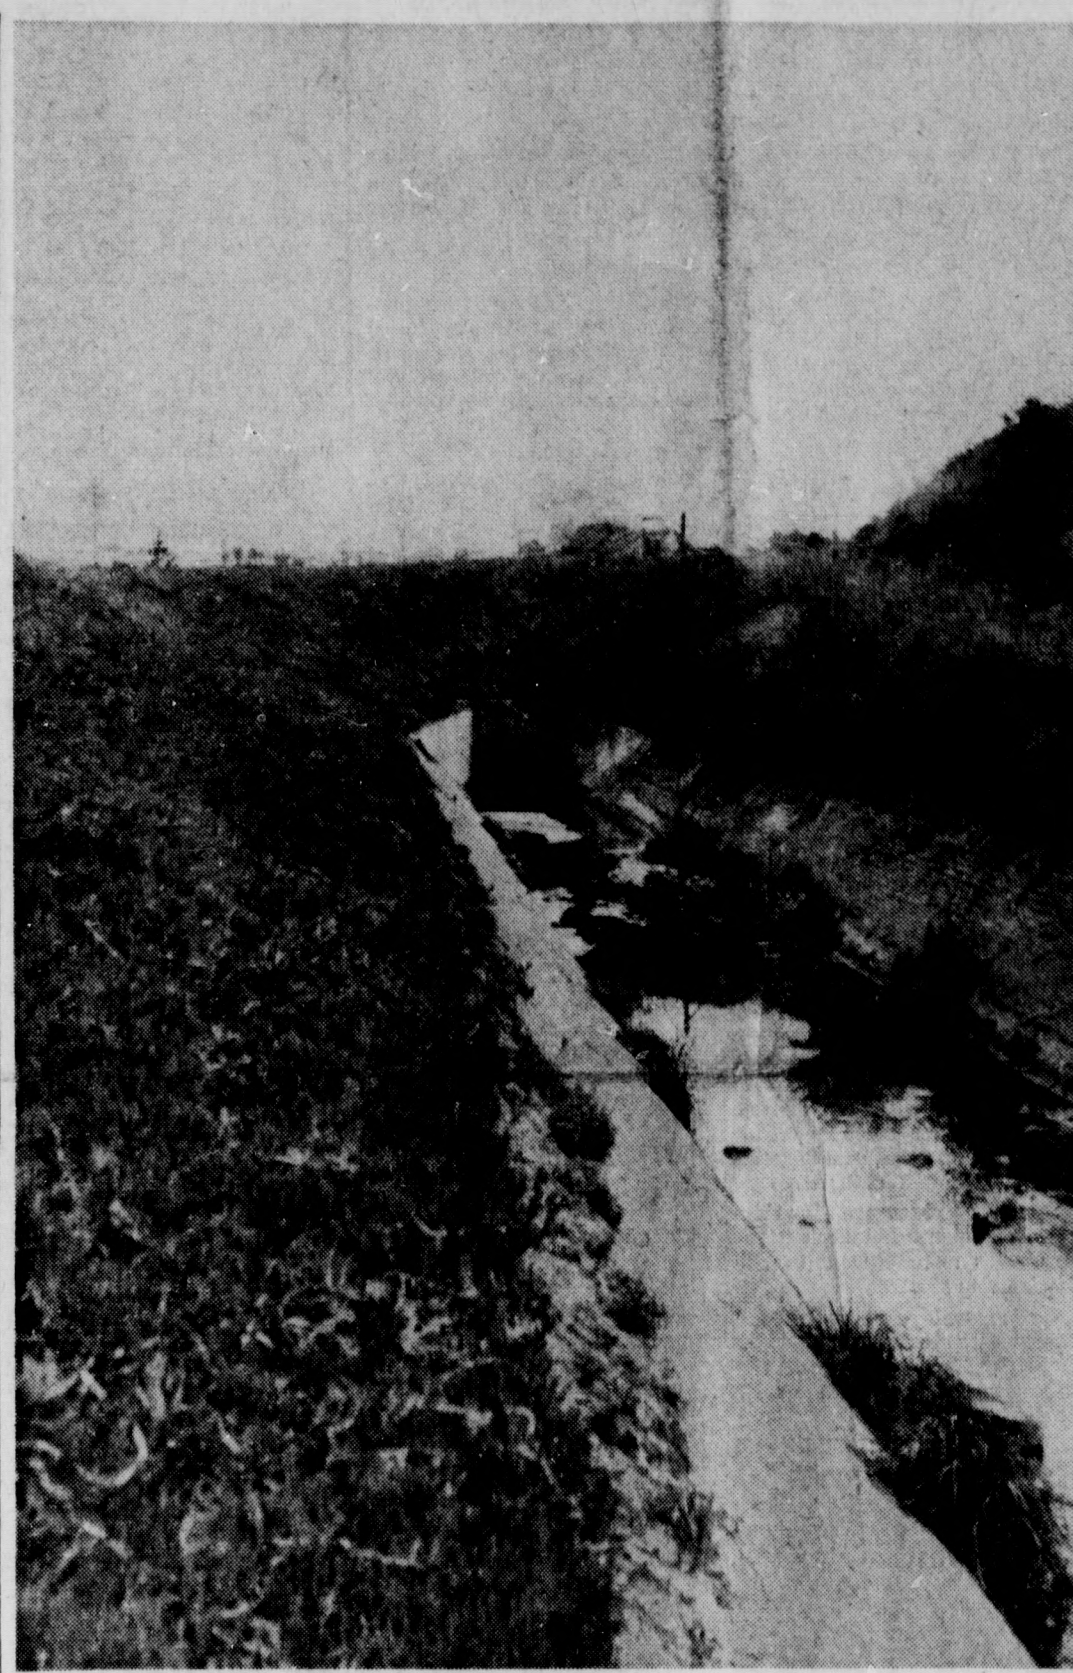

The Daly City Ministerium is a group of clergymen from the area that meets once a month. New officers for the year include: the Rev. Mr. Hodges, president; Rabbi Shore, vice president; the Rev. Herbert Tweedie, secretary, and the Rev. E. Clark Robb, treasurer.

Two Men In The Know Talk About Sanitation District

by Jim Goldsborough

Two men who ought to know — C. L. White and Lawrence F. Giuffra — gave out some facts last week on just how much the Christen annexation would cost the taxpayer.

The answer — nothing. At least not so far as the sanitation district is concerned, they stated.

At last week's city council meeting, opponents of the annexation stated that it would:

A. Force the tax rate up, and B. Overburden the facilities of the sanitation district.

"I don't see how annexation could hurt the city," White said. "The new land would pay the costs itself. The tax rate wouldn't go up because the developers pay for the costs. They put in all the pipes and mains."

C. L. White is head engineer of the North San Mateo County Sanitation District; Daly City's district. Larry Giuffra is the operator of the sewage treatment plant. Both men have the facts.

"Sure the tax rate went from 23c to 48c last year," White went on, "but that had nothing to do with any annexation. That increase is going to pay for the new digester we have. We need $115,000 for that and $75,000 for the new outfall into the ocean. When this thing is all completed we will have a capacity for 75,000 people. With 48,000 using it now, there's going to be plenty of room."

This big new facility looks more like the headquarters for a recreation and parks department than a sewage treatment plant. Located below the fire department, it sits on a couple of acres of city land right beside Westlake Park, and is attractive and clean.

"The present facilities will be board talked to us we knew we had to do something. Before we had this new digester we were constantly overloaded. What could we do when we had to clean? We couldn't put the sewage on the beach."

Giuffra puts most of the blame that caused the past overloading on the garbage disposals. "Before disposals the per capita usage was about 17 lb. per day. With the disposals it's up to about one lb."

"We have real flexibility now," he stated. "We can clean once in a while. We can use one digester while the other sits."

"No, we don't have any added problem when it rains. Some water gets into our lines through the open manhole covers and this causes an increase in flow through our plant. Even so, our capacity is 4 million gallons per day and we haven't hit that figure once this year."

After treatment the sanitary sewage runs in a pipe toward the sea. The pipe empties into the channel for the storm water, and both then continue on for release in the ocean. During a storm, months ago, the storm channel overflowed and ran into Lake Merced. San Francisco protested.

"That was caused by a very small screen that we had on the front of the Vista Grande tunnel," Giuffra said. Leaves and twigs would get caught and block it up. We replaced it with a larger one. Also we cut back the overhanging trees."

Asked if he thinks there will be a future problem of over-

Hospitalized ... Two Hurt While Crossing Street

Two boys were hospitalized with multiple cuts and bruises Friday, Nov. 17 when struck by a car and thrown 30 feet while crossing East Market street, just west of Third avenue.

The boys, Jimmy Fisicaro, 7, of 138 Valley street, Daly City, and Tyrone Reeves, 8, of 387 Second avenue, Colma, were rushed to Junipero Serra Hospital by Broadmoor Ambulance.

Mrs. Orda M. Bomba, 42, of 831 Lausanne avenue, Daly City, said the boys ran into her car as they were crossing the street from in front of a parked truck. Jimmy Fisicaro was later transferred to Mt. Zion Hospital and Tyrone Reeves was transferred to St. Joseph's Hospital in San Francisco.

Two Hurt In Freeway Crash

A San Francisco couple was injured at 9:15 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 19 on rain-slick Edgemar freeway when their car went over an 80-foot embankment.

The driver, Michael D. Dittes, 23, of 2810 Gough street, San Francisco, was treated at Peninsula Hospital for a lacerated scalp and possible head injury. His wife, Roberta, 21, was admitted with possible back and head injuries. Highway patrolmen Frank Calleros and Lloyd Anderson said the car was a total wreck.

PACIFICA SEEKS HALT ON TRANSIT FUNDS

Pacifica city councilmen will ask the board of supervisors to stop the Bay Area Rapid Transit District from spending additional money and to keep local taxpayers from any future financial obligations.

Councilman Harold Feyge said he had discussed the problem with District Attorney Keith C. Sorensen and that Sorensen had agreed the county faces an immediate problem.

Feyge said that even though the county may ask withdrawal from the district, the district still has six months in which it may obligate local citizens financially.

He said the district may obligate the county for future obligations even after the county withdraws officially from the district. Under the present setup, the rapid transit district, Feyge warned, can build up a large financial indebtedness.

The night prior to the regular Wednesday luncheon session, De Laittre also appeared before the Daly City Rotarians for a special club assembly-dinner at which time committeemen presented their reports for the governor's inspection.

Finemaster duties for last Wednesday's meeting were handled by Jack Kendree.

This week's Wednesday program features Dr. Jerry Miles as program chairman, with Art Colvin serving as finemaster.

The following week, Nov. 29, the Daly City Rotarians will hold a ladies' day program, with wives of members invited as guests. Dr. Miles will be finemaster.

Man Charged With Hanging His Pet Dog

Clifford D. Pearson, 128 Los Olivos avenue, Daly City, was charged Sunday, Nov. 19 with strangling his Alaskan Husky dog to death with a rope "because it was always attacking him and neighboring children."

Neighbors said Pearson had attempted to borrow a shotgun to kill the dog, a "Keys Hound" before the alleged strangulation occurred.

They said he always abused the animal when he had been drinking. Officer C. B. Munday said the man apparently had been drinking heavily Nov. 19. He stated the man apparently tied a rope around the dog's neck, lifted him into the air, and strangled him.

Police were scheduled to confer with district attorney's officials Wednesday to determine what charge will be filed against the man.

Rotarians Hear District Gov. N. C. De Laittre

The importance of club service in the life of individual Rotarians was stressed last Wednesday by District Governor Norman C. De Laittre, speaking before some 50 Daly City Rotarians assembled for luncheon at the Westlake Bowl.

De Laittre, who in the short space of seven years emerged as governor of one of Rotary International's largest districts, hailed from the Cloverdale, Calif., club, one of the smallest in the state.

Le Laittre pointed out to the members that club service and community service on a local level provide the eventual framework for better international understanding with all men.

Lincoln PTA Holds Afternoon Meeting

Abraham Lincoln PTA held its first afternoon meeting of the year on Nov. 14. Although these afternoon meetings exclude some parents, they also give an opportunity to others who could not ordinarily attend evening meetings. The trial meeting was a real success.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag and the inspirational reading, "Thanksgiving Prayer," read by Miss J. Long. After Mrs. Stanley Bacon, president, concluded the business part of the meeting, she introduced Mrs. Richard Newton, parent education chairman, who, after an informative introduction, presented Jack Danielson, district director of guidance and personnel, and Donald Sanger, guidance consultant.

Danielson then proceeded with a comprehensive talk on the special services of the school district as supplements to the education of the children. These services are little known but the children benefit from them every day. These services cover such areas as music, art, physical education, speech therapy, health and guidance and home teachers.

For an example, music in the school is co-ordinated by Mrs. Pat Hackett and Robert Steele. Mrs. Hackett instructs the glee club she formed last year, and Steele instructs the children in instrumental music. The service of music coordinator does not end here; the teachers attend workshops and receive whatever information on techniques or procedure they need and apply them in the classroom. This same system holds true for art and physical education workshops held for teachers when needed.

The school's health program deserves some mention. The

The View From ...Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

Today's column is devoted to a reprint of a forceful and timely speech by Thomas Cahill, Chief of Police of San Francisco. The talk was made last October 23 at the opening session of the League of California Cities Conference in San Francisco.

The Chief's enlightening, frightening statements are reprinted verbatim and without comment from this writer—the remarks need no further clarification. Chief Cahill's address follows:

Ladies and gentlemen, I have trimmed all the frills from my message to you this morning, because it is of the most serious nature, and my allotted time is short.

We live in a dynamic age of tremendous progress and of great achievements, and also grave tensions. Many citizens are so preoccupied with monumental national and international affairs that they have failed to see a dangerous problem developing so close to home that it is rocking the very foundation of our way of life—I refer to the menacing source of crime.

To alert you, I will point out just a few frightening facts. The cost of crime in the United States has reached a staggering sum of well in excess of twenty-two billions of dollars a year—over $128 for every man, woman, and child in America. In 1960, the crime rate climbed to a new all-time high. Worse yet, it is still rising—up 10% across the nation during the first three months of 1961.

I do not wish to confuse you with too many statistics, but I feel compelled to enumerate a few for your enlightenment. In the year 1960, 1,861,300 serious crimes were committed in the United States. Let me give you a brief breakdown in some familiar categories—every year watch flicked off 39 seconds, a burglary was committed—every one minute, a theft of at least $50 was committed—every two minutes, somebody's automobile was stolen—every six minutes, a robbery was perpetrated—every thirty-four minutes, a woman was forcibly raped—and every fifty-eight minutes, a murder was committed.

You could have been the victim in any one of these cases.

In the ten year period 1950 to 1960, the nation's population increased 18%. Major crime increased 98%. During the same decade, California's population rose 49%, and major crime skyrocketed 146%.

Law enforcement has been fully aware of its great responsibilities. It has elevated standards of personnel and operations; has initiated procedures and programs and training, both scientific and tactical, to meet the challenge and the demanding task that lies ahead.

New laws, stricter interpretation of the laws of search and seizure and arrest place obstacles in our path that make accomplishment of our objectives most difficult. While on the other hand, it is steadily becoming easier and safer for the transgressor to carry on his nefarious operations at the expense of society as a whole. The result is that we are confronted on every side with wanton defiance of law, order, and decency.

"Resisting arrest" cases in San Francisco have more than doubled in the past five years. I had three police officers killed on duty, in uniform, in the one month of August, 1958. On June 9, 1961, Monterey Park Police Officer George Elder was going into a store, met holdup men coming out, gave chase on foot, and was shot in the chest and face, and killed. In May of 1961, Van Nuys Patrolman Sydney Riegel, following up on a robbery, went into a housing project after the suspect and was shot. In April, 31-year-old San Leandro Officer Fred Haller was shot to death as he sat behind the wheel of his patrol car. In December of 1960, Los Angeles Police Officer Richard B. Kent walked in on a holdup of an auto parts store and was shot in the chest. In September of 1960, young Menlo Park Patrolman John Lyle was killed in a hail of six bullets by an auto thief. In February, 1960, California Highway Patrolman Richard Duval, 26, died in a hail of lead after stopping a speeder near Victorville. On Aug. 5, 1959, Hillsborough Policeman Eugene Doran met death beside his patrol car after halting an auto on a lonely San Mateo County road. He was shot six times. These are just a few of your police officers who have been shot down in cold blood by the criminal.

This shocking situation is not peculiar to California alone. New York had 1,780 police officers assaulted while carrying out their sworn duty to protect society during the past 12 months, resulting in loss of more than 3,000 man-days of service due to injuries sustained by these officers. New York's police commissioner, Michael Murphy, cried out in despair recently when several teenagers stoned a police officer struggling in the water to save a man from drowning. They even stole the officer's wallet from his coat which was lying on the ground while he risked his life on a mission of mercy.

There is an alarming, growing tolerance for crime and the criminal on the part of too many of our citizens today. This must stop.

Right now, you have reached the crossroads where the course you are following leads to your own destruction. The other road, to which you must change, leads to the survival of the peace and security and justice and strength of your communities. This latter course requires of you and yours an unwavering "respect for law" and lawfully constituted authority on every level.

Remember, we in law enforcement are out-numbered at least 40 to 1 by the criminals. You are the elective and appointive leaders of 16,000,000 Californians who have confidence in your integrity and ability to protect society. Something must be done if the ideals we cherish and the freedoms our forefathers won so gallantly are to be preserved for our children.

We in law enforcement propose to do something dynamic about it and need your direct support. Respect for the law must be restored to guarantee the survival of the American way of life. I am confident you will stand with us; rededicate yourselves to the principles of law and morality—and meet the challenge.

THE FIGHT AGAINST crippling muscular dystrophy was joined this week by the Skyline chapter of B'nai B'rith women when they toured downtown San Francisco on the Roos/Atkins "cable car" with muscular dystrophy canisters. Giving B'nai B'rith women Mrs. Herman Siskind, Mrs. Gilbert Tobin and Mrs. Norman Stone a helping hand is little Martin Stone as he accepts a contribution from passerby. The 1961 Muscular Dystrophy campaign will culminate with the annual door-to-door march, Nov. 30 to Dec. 3. Funds raised during the campaign go towards research to find a cure for this dreaded, crippling disease and to provide and support MD clinics, therapy, orthopedic equipment, counseling and family services. Volunteers are still needed for the march and persons interested in helping should contact the MDA headquarters here, EX 7-6742.

COUNTY DOINGS

by JACK WOOD

Santa will land in several San Mateo County communities after Thanksgiving, by helicopter, fire truck or auto.

Meanwhile, other events reflect a more serious side. Residents and businessmen in San Bruno have expressed bitterness to dirt hauling through San Bruno. The group, led by John Barnard and Philip Silvestri, want the trucks off of San Bruno avenue. A public meeting was called at Silvestri's Florists, still damaged from the time that a runaway truck rammed into its side.

When J. D. Salinger's "Catcher in the Rye" was taken off the shelves of South San Francisco High School Library, it stirred action from South San Francisco Teachers' Union. The union voted that although the novel might contain a smattering of "blue" words, teachers should be allowed to decide what controversial books should be placed in school libraries.

A rainstorm that was the season's first "big one" hit the Bay Area Sunday, Nov. 19, moving down from the Gulf of Alaska and bringing cold breezes with it.

A plea by the San Bruno City Council for tax exemption on fallout shelters has been rejected by the State Board of Equalization in Sacramento.

Bids on construction of an $180,000 noise barrier at International Airport will be opened Dec. 14. Work may be under way by the end of January. The barrier, 30 feet high and 1,000 feet long, curved to muffle the roar of departing jets, will be located at the end of a runway just north of Millbrae avenue. It is designed to provide relief to noise-weary residents of Bayside Manor and other nearby subdivisions.

PHARMACIST AWARD—Robert Markuse (right), manager of Walgreen's drug store in Westlake, receives professional award and handshake from S. S. Raab, vice president in charge of store operations. The award honors Markuse and his staff of registered pharmacists who have made the store into "a dependable prescription outlet." Looking on (left to right) are H. E. Youssi, regional director, and J. R. Saunders, district manager, Western District. Each man is a graduate of a recognized college of pharmacy and a registered pharmacist.

THE LAW IN CLEVELAND In Cleveland, Ohio, according to the National Automobile Club, it is against the law to drive with someone on your lap.

San Mateo County supervisors have all legal requirements mapped out on whether or not they will decide to withdraw from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. The county board has scheduled a public hearing for Dec. 7, after which it will decide whether to approve or disapprove the $1.1 billion plan.

FIRE FACTS

This column is written by Daly City firemen and will be published in this newspaper weekly with the main purpose of informing the public of pertinent information about their Fire Department.

As you all know this week we Americans celebrate Thanksgiving. As we get older, Thanksgiving comes around a little faster each year, but we become more appreciative and thankful for the happiness we derive from life. Those of us who believe in God thank him for what he has given us; and we who have a feeling of patriotism are thankful for being American.

Some things, however, are just taken for granted; fire protection seems to be one of these things. On Thanksgiving Day if you happen to pass a fire station, see a fire engine going down the street, or hear a siren in the distance you might silently thank your City Administrators and Fire Department personnel for the wonderful job they have done over the past decade in giving you what we feel is one of the best fire departments in the Bay Area. There aren't too many of us (according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters), but the men are of high caliber, the equipment is excellent, and pound for pound we stack up with the best of them.

Now we would like to mention a few things regarding fire prevention. The Seasonal Holidays, as you well know, begin with Thanksgiving and end with New Year's Day. During this time there will be large family gatherings, Christmas trees and parties, and all the other activities that go to make up the Holidays. So while you are having a good time try to be cautious of fire hazards that could spoil your holidays.

BUSY WEEK

The following 35 calls were answered last week, November 13 through November 19, by the fire department:

Broken gas main, 1; Chesterfield fires, 2; False alarms, 3; Floods (minor), 4; Grass fires, 1; House fires, 1; Kitchen fires, 1; Lockouts, 8; Mattress fires, 1; Pole fires, 3; Resuscitator calls, 2; Smoke investigations, 4; Stove fires, 2; Washdowns, 1.

Through the combined efforts of your fire department and the Southern Pacific Railroad, the unsightly area along the right of way through Daly City, just east of Junipero Serra, which has always been a source of small rubbish and grass fires, is now in the process of being cleaned up. Trash and garden clippings have been dumped along these tracks by a few residents causing a fire hazard. After this task is completed one more fire hazard will have been eliminated. Our thanks to the Southern Pacific Railroad Company for their wholehearted co-operation.

Reports were given at the board meeting on the California Library Association meeting held in Berkeley recently, which was attended by several of the Friends of the Library group. Mrs. Howard Stites and Mrs. Tibby Torres reported on a Friends of the Library workshop which took place at the CLA meeting. Others who attended were Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Howard Doerr and Mrs. U. R. Kendress.

H. Z. Weibel, chairman of the membership committee, reported memberships are continuing to come in but urged those who have not renewed to do so as soon as possible. Steps will be taken soon, also, to acquaint newcomers to Daly City with Friends of the Library and solicit their membership and participation in the group.

Thought for the week Use common sense and caution when dealing with small pot and oven fires. Put burning pot in oven and close door. Moral: Keep cool with a hot pot.

Jeff Elementary Board Actions

The Jefferson Elementary School Board of Education took these actions at the Monday night meeting:

Benjamin Franklin School: Awarded the painting contract to low bidder, Manor Painting Co., $9,834.

Substitute Teachers Salaries: Postponed salary raise consideration until the whole salary schedule is considered the first of next year. A motion by Trustee Mullen to raise the salaries effective the first of the year was defeated 3-2. The proposed raise is from $18 to $20 per day.

Sale of Bonds: Authorized the sale of $450,000 in bonds to keep bonded indebtedness up to 5% of assessed valuation. This percentage must be maintained to secure state aid.

MAIL BAG

Writer Claims Her Statements Were Misquoted

Dear Editor: This is to correct the erroneous coverage attributed to me by your paper.

I do not know enough about North Sanitary District, sir, to "render an account" other than this:

1.—It cost me $10 more this year, total $19.16.
2.—It is "city" controlled, having on its board two (2) councilmen, one (1) supervisor. (I am told, voting, thereof affects a builder's profits.)

Water
1.—A $3 per year dividend was realized by prompt bill payment.

2.—I am assessed by cubic feet, billed every two months (assessment by value of a house is news to me).

Taxes
Yes! I am worried about taxes and what we are perpetrating, carelessly into this structure for future generations. Example: The $250,000 budget deficit which was incorporated therein. (What did it cost a taxpayer, one mill, ten dollars, when does it come off?)

Annexations (monetarily speaking).
Consult your county taxes and city taxes and the astronomical raises you pay as you buy sales tax and the answer is pretty clear.

MRS. GUIDO MERLINI,
74 Vale Street.

Salvation Army Gives Toys For Christmas

"Now is the time to donate used and reparable toys to the men's social service center of the Salvation Army to allow adequate time for repair and making them available for Christmas."

Early contribution serves a dual purpose as it gives many who would otherwise be deprived the opportunity of acquiring good usable toys at a moderate cost and at the same time provides more useful work for more men in the rehabilitation program of the social center.

Work is a most essential element in any rehabilitation undertaking. It is only through the generosity and consideration of the public that the center can continue to serve an ever growing need.

Ben Franklin School Wins Honor Medal

The George Washington Honor Medal, an award of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, has been won for the second straight year by Paris Simmons' eighth grade social studies class at Benjamin Franklin Intermediate School.

This award is offered yearly to elementary, junior and senior high schools all over the country as a result of outstanding classroom work displaying understanding of the basic American values and way of life.

The Freedoms Foundation is a non-profit, non-sectarian and non-political organization formed to promote an "understanding of the spirit and philosophy of the Constitution and the Bill of Rights." Among its officers and trustees are ex-Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower, Herbert Hoover, and Admiral Radford (ret.) and Maj. Gen. (ret.) Harlan Hartness.

Achievements by classrooms throughout the United States are sent in and judged by this foundation yearly, and outstanding accomplishments are awarded prizes and medals.

This is the first time that an award has been won for two years in a row by an intermediate school. Simmons' classes won the ward for their classroom project "Little Men Who Made Us Big," a book-size collection of student articles and essays on outstanding men in American History. A third nomination from the Benjamin Franklin School, is currently being considered by the awards jury for the 1961-62 school year.

Cold Weather Dulls F. Rivera Grid Game

The last official football game of the season was played at Fernando Rivera on Nov. 14.

The sixth grade Hawks kicked off to the Panthers. It was a well placed, 18-yard kick. During the first four downs, the Panthers were held to their scrimmage line.

Later, when the Panthers on the offensive, Fred Garcia's 12-yard "bullet" pass was intercepted by the Hawk's Barton Bacigalupi.

With the Hawks on the offense again, George Poulos, an excellent quarterback, threw a long pass to Louis Gernhardt. The Panthers' Fred Garcia later ran a good 19 yard gain before being forced out of bounds by a group of Hawks.

Then Mike Houston passed to Fred Garcia and completed for a five yard gain. A big moment during the game was when John Handley caught a perfect 21-yard pass from the hands of Fred Garcia.

Due to the extreme cold weather and threatening rain the players were attempting more long gains with passes rather than running plays. During the last moments of play George Poulos tried to complete several more pass plays. Again speedy Fred Garcia intercepted the pass.

Fred's catch was a fine back-handed stab.

During a later play, Panther Gary Sawyer caught a pass and Ted Schermerhorn of the Champion Hawks intercepted a pass.

Finally, with the score 0 to 0, and the weather so cold and moisture (not rain) making it so uncomfortable for continued playing, Mrs. Dawson, Fernando Rivera principal, called all the children to their classes at 12:39 p. m.

During an assembly on Tuesday, Nov. 14, the fifth grade Bobcats of Mrs. Lambert's room and Miss Finley's sixth grade Hawks were announced as the football champions for their leagues. District athletic awards were presented to each room.

WILLIAM J. MURPHY, president of the Grollier Society, cuts the ribbon opening the new Daly City office of the society. Looking on are Noel J. Gravino (left), resident manager of the company, and H. Thomas Smullen, office manager. The Grollier Society publishes the Book of Knowledge Encyclopedia, and markets a new teaching machine designed to teach children and adults in the home. The new San Francisco office is located at 15 Southgate avenue, Daly City.

F. Rivera Grid Season Completed

Fifth and sixth grade girls' intermural in football and kickball are completed. Mrs. Lambert's fifth grade Bobcats were victorious in both leagues. Miss Doolman's sixth grade Wildcats came out on top for both competitions.

Sixth graders in Miss Finley's room at Fernando Rivera recently elected officers for the second quarter of the school year.

George Poulos turned over his duties as president to Caron Amos. Tony Mocita, who acted as vice president and student council representative, was succeeded by Steve Bach.

Keeping the minutes of the class meetings will be Libby Davidson, replacing Debbie Gill. The treasurer, Stephanie Chaparral, has turned over her job of banking and collecting milk money to Tom Lavezzoli. The job of keeping order as sergeant at arms will go to Kenny Perlus, who is taking over this job from Audrey Zweig.

The class has a formal meeting each Friday at which time students discuss plans for the remainder of the year.

Officers for the second quarter were elected Thursday in Miss Brown's sixth grade class. Albert Salzberg is the new president, and John Handley will help him, being vice president.

Records of class activities will be kept by Janet Lowpensky, the secretary, and all money transactions will be handled by the treasurer, John Williams. Those who want to check out books will ask the assistance of the two newly-elected librarians, Vickie Murray and Gary Sawyer.

Also on the list of officers elected are the intermural games captains. Boys' captain and co-captain are Thomas Valarde and Fred Garcia; Karen Stamm and Barbara Buser are captain and co-captain of the girls' team.

Pauline Brown PTA To Hold Meeting

The first meeting of the recently organized M. Pauline Brown PTA will be held on Thursday, Nov. 30, at 8 p. m. in the multi-use room. A by-laws report under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. Jansen will be presented, followed by the nominating committee report under the chairmanship of Mrs. D. Aron.

This meeting will be conducted by Mrs. C. H. Preston, director of extension of the 17th District, C. C. P. T.

Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend so that they may meet the incoming officers, and also have the wonderful opportunity to become charter members in the newest PTA unit in the Jefferson Elementary School District.

Ramlings Stomp Papooses 33-7

In the last game of the season, Westmoor's Frosh-Soph gridders completely monopolized their game against cross-town rival, Jefferson. The Indians, trying to avenge their previous 27-7 defeat at the hands of the Rams, were unsuccessful as again they were swamped, this time 33-7.

With a pass interception and 25 yard runback, Larry Homer set up the Ramlings first touchdown march in the first quarter. Ramlings quarterback, Gary Mendoza, threw a pass to Arnold Ertola to complete a 35 yard pass-run touchdown play. Although the conversion was no good the Ramlings led the Indians at the end of the first quarter 6-0.

Again in the second quarter the Ramlings made the sole touchdown. Dave Mahoney sprinted 20 yards for the second Ram touchdown of the game. Mahoney then ran over the goal line for the conversion.

With a half-time score of 13-0 the Ramlings did not cease their attack on the Indians. Early during the third quarter on a series of running plays Ron Baker plused 3-yards to make the score 19-0. Baker, in an attempt also to make the conversion, was stopped. Jefferson's Injuns finally scored in the third quarter on an 84 yard run by Jeff's Leo Gatill. Conversion was good for Jeff's sole 7 points.

In the fourth quarter, Ramlings scored twice. First touchdown was scored by Dave Mahoney who also scored the conversion to make the score 26-7. Second touchdown was scored with the Ramlings using the spread offense similar to that of Red Hickey's 49-ers. A pass to Homer, as the gun sounded to end the game, was successful for the touchdown. Mahoney then ran the conversion over to make the final score 33-7.

Variety Of Crafts In Rockhound Club

By Jack Wood

Some people like horses. Others like football. Many like to knit and sew.

Some like rocks. In fact a group of persons in Daly City called the Rockhounds have about a zillion different things they do with rocks.

They hunt them, polish them, make jewelry, earrings, show cases and even make Indian arrowheads. It is a long, tedious process, but it is fun.

The Rockhounds meet every other Monday night at the War Memorial Building in Daly City. Here, they discuss their rocks, show slides and plan field trips.

POLISHED ROCKS
Contrary to rumor, they do not bring big bags of rocks along and dump them on the floor. The rocks they bring are usually polished and ready for the show case.

President Gene Myers said people become rockhounds because they have collected so many rocks they don't know what to do with them; or else, they took a college course in geology and are eager to continue their association with rocks.

Once a month, the Rockhounds comb the hills, or valleys, or mines, wherever they may be, to find rocks. Then they go home and polish them for another six months.

Their only worry is that some day, all the good rocks may disappear from their constant combings. In fact, Myers said, Garnet rock is almost gone from Sausalito beach and petrified whale bone is scarce in Drake's Bay. Jade is also becoming scarce in Jade Cove south of Monterey.

REMUNERATIVE HOBBY
In a summer gold panning trip to Grass Valley, the Daly City Rockhounds only came up with a few gold nuggets. But other members, have been more fruitful. They make jewelry and trinkets, mosaics and objects that sell from $5 to $300.

Another field trip was to Aurora, Nev., where inquisitive rock hunters found what appeared to be an entire Indian arrowhead factory. The trip was really to find large thunder eggs, and they were extremely numerous, Myers noted.

In other forays into the hills, the rockhounds gathered Banded Onyx at the Manhattan Mine, north of Lake Berryessa and recently collected garnet and Marcasite at Anderson Dam east of Morgan Hill. Marcasite is a light blue agate with silver specks of Marcasite in the Carnelian, an orange colored translucent stone.

TALENTED CRAFTSMEN
Scratch a Rockhound and you might find a jeweler or an artist.

Instruction classes are given weekly by Myers, George Shanazy, Midge Cydrus, Dick and Jewell Lansdowne in the intricacies of rock crafts.

One phase of it is making displays of this fluorescent rock. There are over 200 different varieties.

Carving rocks is popular. They take a very hard gem stone, and hand shape it into jewelry. This is called Lapidary.

Lapidary classes include cutting and polishing and working with silver and gold. It requires mechanical skill. They use grinders and polishers, take rough pieces, slab them, draw a design and turn them out on grinders, sanders and polishers.

MINERAL COLLECTING
Another technique is called Intasia. They take pieces of stone, cut to desired shape, mount them in a picture and make a background of Jasper, or some other beautiful rock, like putting pieces in a jigsaw puzzle.

Another phase is mineral collecting. Rock hunters look for perfectly formed rock as to location and chemical content, put them in a department type drawer and also in show cases in their homes.

Rock carving entails cutting into hard gems, agate, jade, rose quartz and Carnelian.

Minerals are classified according to their chemical content and many rocks look alike. They often have to be identified under a microscope.

Making mosaics is another rockhound pastime, in which dyed rocks are fitted into pictures. Other members make bowls, glasses, cups and chess sets on a lathe.

The Daly City Rockhounds often participate in showings at other clubs. They presented a display in both Daly City libraries during the Golden Anniversary celebration.

The club this June was chartered by the California Gem and Mineral Society and now has about 60 members.

Club officers are Myers, president; Bob Peters, vice president; Kay Hunter, treasurer and Alice Gonzales, secretary.

VA Employing Handicapped

The Veterans Administration hired 1,502 physically handicapped persons during fiscal year 1961, an increase of more than 20 per cent over the 1,249 appointed during fiscal year 1960.

Even with normal turnover, this brings the total of handicapped persons on the VA employment rolls to more than 11,000 in the 170 hospitals, 67 regional offices and 91 outpatient clinics from coast to coast.

Although this will work out to approximately one physically handicapped person for every 14 full-time VA employee, experience has shown that when properly placed their job performance record compares favorably with that of their non-handicapped fellow-workers.

In the VA department of veterans benefits, 9.7 per cent of the personnel have some handicap; in the department of medicine and surgery, 7.4 per cent, and in the department of insurance, 7.3 per cent.

During fiscal year 1961, the Veterans Administration with seven per cent of all federal employees, hired approximately 29 per cent of the handicapped persons added to the federal payroll in that period.

3 Arrested At Burglary Scene

A former San Quentin convict and two accomplices were arrested in a stolen car early Thursday, Nov. 16, as they were allegedly about to burglarize a Flying A service station in Linda Mar.

Merchants' patrol special deputy William Regan saw the men in a car parked near the station at 1:15 a.m. with the lights out. A glass pane at the station was broken but nothing was stolen. He held the men at gunpoint until Pacifica police arrived and arrested the men.

Held on $3,000 bail each were Lance Wayne Morrisette, 18, William A. Juma, 26, and Franklin D. Rhea, 30, all of San Francisco.

Rhea has an arrest record of two burglaries and had spent three and one-half years in a San Quentin prison for burglary in Monterey County. He had also been arrested in San Francisco for use of hypnotic drugs and had spent 30 days in county jail. The men were placed on hold for San Francisco police on auto theft charges.

Gasoline Moved From Pacifica City Hall

Pacifica police were in the doghouse last week when firemen found 40 gallons of gasoline stashed under the stairs in city hall.

The gasoline, which had been stolen by youths and held by police as evidence, was moved from the area by firemen who feared it might blow up the building.

Baby Dies From Heart Attack

The 14-month old son of a Pacifica couple died of a heart attack, Nov. 19. The child, Robert C. McAlexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie McAlexander, 744 Lockhaven, Pacifica, had been treated at the University of California Medical Clinic since birth for a congenital heart disease.

The baby began crying Sunday morning and when the father picked the child up, it died, police reported. An ambulance was called and the baby was pronounced dead by Dr. Josef Heilman.

Arts, Crafts In High School Are Discussed

The fine arts program in high school is a very important part of the school curriculum. "Man is a human animal that needs increased sensitivity to beauty," according to Donnal Behm, dean of boys at Jefferson High School.

After a brief introduction to the topic of art appreciation at the Jefferson High PTA meeting recently, a panel of four teachers explained the things they taught their classes.

Donald Carlson stated that the development of imagination and a sense of awareness or personal expression was the chief aim of his teaching in art.

Gilbert Crane of the music department said that singing in a choral group taught the student responsibility to self and responsibility to the group. It is an activity that does not exclude anybody and gives everybody a chance.

Raymond Lorenzato from the art department emphasized the fact that each person can function as an individual without competing with another person. He believes in the development of the imagination of the individual.

Gil Toibin, who teaches photography and is in charge of the year book, explained about the usefulness of photography in recording a scene with faithfulness of detail and tone. Photography is a truly creative art medium.

At the end of this interesting program, a social hour followed.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Word Picture Of Mexico

Word pictures of memorable scenes from Mexico: — A young boy, about 14 years of age, shirtless, bronzed, with a fierce looking machete in his hand, on his way to work ten or eleven hours in the fields. He stops and gazes at the North Americans and their scooters. His face loses its astonishment and breaks into a big grin as the North Americans attempt to engage him in conversation. He proudly displays his machete for closer inspection and demonstrates its effectiveness by cutting down a small tree.

In front of a church in the southern part of Mexico. An elderly man is walking a chicken around in a circle, by means of a string attached to its leg. Upon questioning it is found that the chicken is not a pet, but one being trained to engage in a deadly combat within a few weeks.

A swimming pool of a large Mexican hotel. A garden ledge surrounding the pool, approximately five feet in height, on the top of which has been cemented broken bottles and glass, for the purpose of preventing outsiders from using the facility.

A beautiful Mexican Senorita who stops by the North Americans while they are eating breakfast in a cafe. She is from Mexico City and is just returning to her home after studying in the United States. As she discusses her home and her people, her face glows with pride and devotion. She invites the North Americans to contact her when they reach Mexico City, so that she might assist in making the stopover one in which the North Americans will receive a good impression of the Mexican people.

A field in which a farmer is tilling his soil, using oxen and an antique wooden plow. A few miles later, another farmer engaged in the same work using modern farm equipment.

Tequila plants in neat rows encircling a steep hill.

A large coral snake, that has been killed by a native, hanging from a roadside cross.

Slim, 6'5½" — the tallest guide in Mexico, eager to serve, eager to spend your money. Full of suggestions for making the trip more interesting. When he discovers that the North Americans are not rich, he is still willing to assist in finding a hotel room, and recommending eating establishments.

Women in crisp white uniforms, busily engaged in the patting of dough into tortillas.

Just before Las Casas, Mexico, climbing in steep accent for miles until you drive through clouds. Stopping periodically to enjoy the breathtaking view from such great heights. Marvelling at the construction of such a highway.

Hundreds of people gathered around the scooter, eager to speak to and learn from the North Americans. Offers of hospitality and friendship.

A group of motorcyclists who meet you at the city limits and escort you into the city. You find they are called the untouchables, because each is from a family of great influence and the police officers will not risk their jobs by attempting to correct them.

Amazement on the faces of the North Americans, for this is a different feeling than that experienced in the U. S.

Vultures and a dog enjoying, in peace, a community feast on a dead cow which had been killed by a passing automobile.

Hundreds of children, notebooks in hand, accompanied by teachers, making a study of Indian costumes on display in the National Palace.

In a market place. A tiny baby, fast asleep, surrounded by bolts of cloth. Not far away, the mother busily engaged in bargaining with a customer. In the same market, a large cardboard carton. A tousled head of a little girl peering over the rim from the inside, with beautiful brown eyes that study the passerby. Down the street from the market a young couple with a small child in their arms, the child in dainty clothing with ribbons in her hair. The parents beam happily as their picture is snapped by the tourist and stop to explain that the little girl has just had her portrait made.

Native women carrying immense bundles of laundry on their heads to the local stream, where they will wash it and lay it on bushes to dry.

A shoeshine boy who shines the shoes of his first customer, then after being paid crosses himself and gives a brief prayer of thanks.

The Director of the Bureau of Tourism, who takes two hours to discuss Mexico with you, from a schedule that is filled with exacting appointments. He displays interest in the United States, and his desire that Mexico be pictured as positively as possible. His explanation that the riot in Mexico at the U. S. Embassy consisted of approximately 150 people of which 140 were children under ten, that were just having a good time, not knowing what they were doing. His placing of his staff at your disposal to mark maps, to give materials and to be of every assistance. His disapproval of Castro.

In Hermosilla, the Mexican Teyocan who wished to demonstrate the Mexican scooter and did so by riding it back and forth through a major hotel lobby. His interest in the North American, and his lavish hospitality.

These and a thousand more scenes come to mind as comprising part of the total Mexico seen by the writer. Each a precious memory of a wonderful people, an enchanting land, and one which all of us should get to know better, for in this knowing comes understanding.

The Mojave River, which runs along U. S. Highway 66, is a river without a mouth, according to the National Automobile Club.

This strange river has its source in the springs and snow crevices of the San Bernardino Mountains and has no mouth since its waters are swallowed up in the sands of the desert.

Debate Season Under Way At Westmoor High

Rafters creak, windowpanes shudder as enthusiastic debaters start another season of competition.

November 11 at San Francisco State College was the first opportunity Westmoor High School debaters Robin Frisch and Joan Johnson had to compare abilities and arguments with their future rivals. The girls, both advanced public speaking students will compete for the first time on December 9 at Harry Ellis School.

"Federal Aid to Education" is the general topic chosen by the Golden Gate Speech Association to be debated this year. Two specific questions will be chosen by the National Committee immediately following Christmas vacation.

The Golden Gate Speech Association holds its annual competition through the month of May. Speech enthusiasts from California high schools match talents in the fields of debate, original oratory, and humorous, dramatic and oratorical interpretations. The tournaments are held at various schools in the Bay Area.

Representing Westmoor in the individual events will be Lynette Fishel, Jacqueline Tripp, Bill Soars, Janet Spears, Sharon Ellingson, Robin Frisch, Joan Johnson and Stephanie Lenehan. Grecian Flavor Comes To Jeff

by Randy Marcus

One of the interesting students at Jefferson High School, Joanne Recka, came to the United States from a small village in Greece in 1958. Joanne says that life was not too easy in Greece, and her family was happy to come to this country.

Joanne has an uncle in the United States, who has lived here since he was a boy. He helped tremendously in getting the Recka family settled in the strange new surroundings.

It is interesting that the men in her family have added to the family name, making it Reckas, but because she is a girl, Joanne's name is Recka.

Joanne first attended Francisco Junior High in San Francisco, but shortly thereafter began attending Colma Junior High School. She is now maintaining a B-plus average as a sophomore at Jefferson High.

After graduation, she would like to attend a college and study to become a history or French teacher.

Doctor Honored By AMA Board

Dr. Monroe Alenick, internist at the Skyline Plaza Medical Building, has been appointed a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine.

VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED

Will your group decorate a ward at Laguna Honda home?

Swing into the Christmas spirit by getting your office group or club members or organizations together to go out in a body and be responsible for one ward at the home. It can be fun and you can be sure it will be rewarding.

There are 47 wards to be decorated, plus the auditorium and halls. Some are in the Laguna Honda home itself, others in Clarendon Hall where the ambulatory men live. About 1,700 old people are confined in these wards and the days until Christmas seem endlessly long to them.

Laguna Honda belongs to the city. Bringing the Christmas spirit to the wards is the responsibility of warm hearted citizens. The city supplies the trees, ornaments and lights so you have the things to work with. Of course your group will probably want to add a little excitement with other decorations you might want to donate. The main thing is to show your ingenuity and generosity.

The days (and evenings up until 9 o'clock) of Dec. 14, 15, 16 and 18 have been set aside for ward decorating. Everything will be ready for you except your help which is earnestly needed.

To get together your group, phone Montrose 4-1580, ask for the volunteers and tell them you as an individual with a few friends or an entire organization want to be assigned a ward. Then come out to the home, get to work at the designated time and see how much happiness you can bring to these old people who would be lost without you. Only by doing something like this will your Christmas be real happy.

Spanish Class Sees Don Quixote Movie

Members of Howard Miguel's third period, fourth year Spanish class at Westmoor High School saw a Russian film version of Don Quixote at the Vogue theater in San Francisco last week.

Miguel's class is reading this Spanish classic by Cervantes as part of their classwork, and it was felt that the film might aid them in understanding the novel.

Characterization in the movie, stated Miguel, the head of Westmoor's language department, was quite good, but the adventures of the noble Don Quixote and his "amigo" Sancho Panza were somewhat inaccurate.

On the whole, however, the students who went enjoyed the movie, and Miguel felt that the evening was well spent. Those who saw the movie were John Johnson, Brandt Larsen, Judi Mann, Dave Silberstein and Mary Lee Woodman.

Touch Football Leagues Wind Up
PAL Teams Capture 3 Top Spots

The Daly City Department of Recreation 1961 Touch Football Leagues came to conclusion this week with the PAL Bears taking the crown in the sixth grade league. Coach Omar Grimes' boys maintained their perfect record at the expense of the BYA Little Giants. Had the Little Giants won this game, they would have tied the Holy Angel Colts for second place.

The Little Giants put in a good effort but the high scoring Bears had too many guns. The Bears had a total of 12 points scored against their defense for the season. Bobby Knowland passed for three touchdowns and ran for two more to put his team over the Little Giants, 33 to 0.

The seventh grade play-off action saw the PAL Knights defeat the OLPH Bulldogs, 19-0. The Knights earned every touchdown in this game. OLPH put up a far better game than the score showed. Hard nosed defensive play marked every quarter. The teams were evenly matched, but Mario Blandini of the Knights gave them the edge. Blandini passed for two touchdowns, once to Larry Black and once to Ron Valdez. In addition to his aerial feats, he broke away on a 55-yard touchdown scamper.

The Sport Scene

By JIM GOLDSBOROUGH

Hillsdale walked over Burlingame last Saturday to the surprising score of 46-7. That game was supposed to be closer than that.

Everyone knows the Knights are good, but sometimes it's hard to tell just how good a team is.

Usually you go on comparative scores. Scores run up by two different teams against the same opponent. These are remarkable for their consistent unreliability.

For example:

Lowell 13, Balboa 0. Then Balboa 27, St. Ignatius 20. So who expects St. Ignatius to beat Lowell, 12-6?

Lincoln 0, St. Ignatius 34. Then Lincoln 26, Sacred Heart 24. How come Sacred Heart beats St. Ignatius 12-6?

The examples are too numerous to chronicle. Even Terra Nova affords something of an example when last week they almost beat second-place South San Francisco. After losing by four and five touchdowns to everybody, who expects this fine game against the Warriors.

The point to this all is that the usual method of determining the ability of a football team—comparative scores—doesn't work. There is only one situation that makes it possible to make generalizations about a team off its seasonal record.

That's when the team never loses.

Not only never loses, but never comes close to losing.

Like the Oklahoma team of five years ago that won 43 games in a row over five years and the starting team came within two games of playing a whole college career without a loss.

That team you knew was good. They didn't have to play somebody that you played to get an idea of what they could do. Nobody even got close except toward the end.

Tommy McDonald, Jerry Tubbs, Dave Baker, Bob (Hog) Harrison, Bill Krishner — the team just had the guns. They had snappy autumn beauty. Clean, crisp, professional quality.

The scores would go higher and higher and higher. All anyone ever wanted was a moral victory.

That's all anyone ever got.

So back to where this all started. When Hillsdale beat Burlingame, 46-7, we began to think that the evidence on the Knights side is getting weighty.

We noticed in the last rankings of the top Northern California prep teams that Hillsdale was rated 21st. Actually it was a tie for 21st.

A tribute to the inaccuracy of grid ratings and predictions.

The old methods just don't work. The only one left is just to watch quietly, and when a competent squad like Hillsdale comes along you just sit back and quietly dig.

Game predictions are kind of a bore, and score predictions are absurd, but it's in order here, and so we shall violate a rule: Against Capuchino, Hillsdale will win. Nothing can compete with quality.

That's all anyone ever got.

at Westlake Bowl

by Jim Grealish

Steve Gotelli continues to rattle the pins with high games and series. His 259 game in the 825 Scratch League set a new high for the league as he registered a 632 series Monday night in the 805 Scratch League and won a twelve pound turkey in his second game after missing one by a strike in the first game.

High shooter of the week was Ted Hendrickson in the National Masters 900 Scratch League with 223-234-221 for a new league high series of 678. If Ted keeps shooting like this he'll make the bowlers from other parts of the country sit up and take notice next January when he represents the San Francisco area in the All-Star at Miami.

Plans are going ahead for the third anniversary party on Saturday Dec. 2. The program will start at 7 p.m. with a match game between a team of Westlake Bowl employees and a Junior team with a 937 average. The boys who will be striving to become men are Randy Wilcox, Carl Steigerwald, Jim Fisher, Phil Hargrove and Joe Marasco. To add to the interest, scoring for the match will be on the same basis as that used by the professional National Bowling League.

The first triplicate of the season was registered last week in the 99's League with three 131 games by Gerry Stoeckle.

More and more 600 series are being registered here as John Bazzanella shot 627, Rich Knorr 617, Don Acton 616, George Ballo 610, Al Thomas 608, Primo Liberatore 610 and Paul Sylvester 600.

Three records were broken in the B'nai B'rith Leagues last Monday as Hal Redstin with a 152 average bowled a 252 game, Bob Di Ricco shot a 274 game and 632 series, and Al Simon registered a 568 series.

Westlake Bowlers will journey to Mission Bowl Thanksgiving Day to shoot in the opening squad of the First Annual Mission Bowl Holiday Handicap Singles.

Last Tuesday morning the A-1 Nursery Ladies' League hosted sponsor Dorothy Moyle to an after bowling party. Belated congratulations to Dotty. The bakers in the A-1 Nursery Men's League, under the direction of Tom Dillon, baked a beautiful cake and the ladies served cake and coffee.

Charlene Diamond has her Thanksgiving turkey as she won a 12 pound gobbler in Westlake's Turkey Shoot. While bowling with the Tea Timers League, Charlene posted strikes in the third, sixth and ninth frames of her first game to win the award.

In last week's Powder Puff Derby, Evelyn Keenan not only won the Derby but also earned her 225 award.

Learn To Twist At The YWCA

By DORIS FOX

Ballroom dance, hula, and swimming are just a few of the many classes opening this week, sponsored by the YWCA of North San Mateo County.

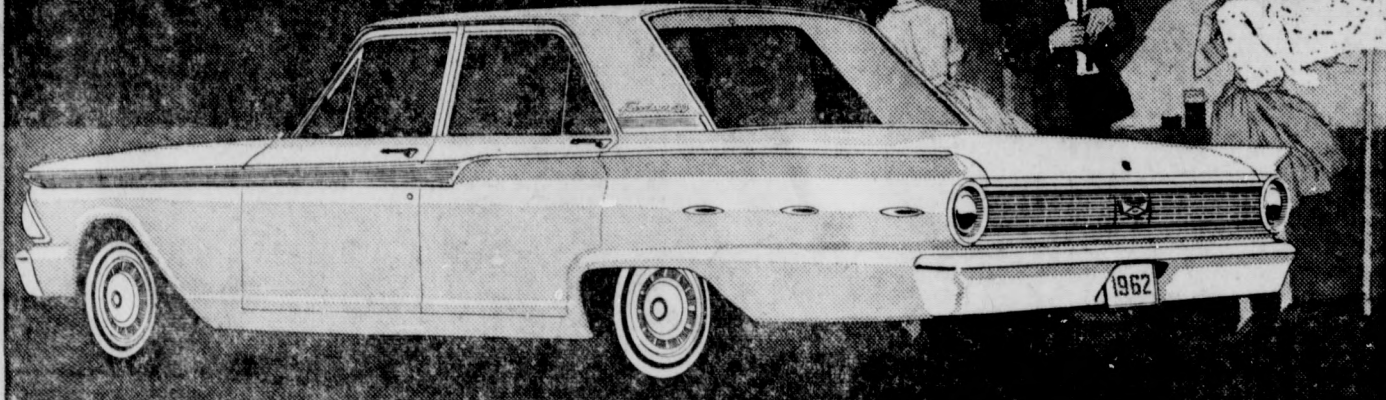

The Monday night dance class at Westmoor High School promises a surprise in the form of the new dance called the "twist." According to the Y dance instructor, Mina Little, a lively evening of fun is guaranteed to anyone who would like to learn the twist or any of the other popular dances.
